

Alexandria Gazette 4 Sep 1876

Hedgeman Carney, a rather noted character of his day, and a sort of "lion" among his class, died at his home in the "Forest," last Sunday after a year or two of suffering with asthma.